Free Trip to Florida's Newest Potato Growing Section

Results this year have been next to marvelous; up to $500 an acre from potatoes, up to $2 a hamper for beans; peppers, eggplant, strawberries, tomatoes and practically all vegetables produced handsomely. Bearing groves and pineapple fields in the heart of this rich district, producing large incomes and excellent yields of hay and forage crops prove the value of Indian River Farms as Florida's foremost trucking, citrus fruit and general farming section.

Come down and see these fertile lands at the worst season of Florida's year, the summer season, the rainy season; the season when the growers are producing the least of any time in the year, but come down to Verano and see how delightful and what a wonderful section this is even at its worst.

Call or write for further details regarding this free trip. May 16, to purchasers, or any information you want regarding the crops in this tried and proven section which seems destined to be the most valued land in all Florida.
